Supplies:

Baby Lock Sewing and Embroidery Machine
"Bizzzy Bee" embroidered button cover design collection from Hope Yoder
Button~Ups Fabric Button Cover Machine from Hope Yoder or
1 ½" Button cover kit
White ribbon
¾ yard of 7/8" wide yellow, black and white print plaid ribbon
1 yard of 1" wide yellow with white mini dot ribbon
1 yard ¼" wide yellow ribbon with a decorative edge
All-purpose white thread
Madeira embroidery threads in the following colors:
White, black, pink, yellow, gold, grey, green,
Hand needle
Barrette
Temporary Spray adhesive
Baby Lock Tear-Away stabilizer
Scissors

Instructions:

1. Transfer the letter to the machine using your preferred transfer method.
2. Hoop the stabilizer and a piece of white ribbon centered in the 4"x 4" hoop.
3. Embroider the letter. Remove the excess stabilizer and follow the Fabric Cover Button machine directions or the direction from the button cover kit to cover the button.
4. Thread a hand needle and knot the end.
5. Cut six 4" strips from the narrow yellow ribbon.
6. Fold the ribbon so the ends are in the center, and each end has a loop. Place the needle through the center of the ribbon holding both ends and the center in place.
7. Repeat for the remaining strips. Cross the direction of the loops each time to make an even and full bow.
8. Cut two 9" strips from the dotted ribbon.
9. Fold the ribbon so the ends are in the center, each end has a loop and the dots are visible on the outside of the ribbon. Place the needle through the center of the ribbon holding both ends and the center in place. Repeat for the remaining strip.
10. Cut two 9" strips from the plaid ribbon.
11. Continue layering the strips in the same method as above alternating the direction of the loops to make an even and full bow.
12. Cut two 5" strips from the dotted ribbon.
13. Cut V shaped notches from each end of the strips.
14. Do not fold these strips, instead cross these strips, so the ends are showing.
15. Take a few hand stitches back and forth through the center of the hair bow to secure the ribbons.
16. Attach the button to the center front and the hair barrette to the back of the bow.
